United Scientific Group (A non-profit organization) proud to announce and warmly welcome you to the Virtual Conference on Science of CellBlockistry (CBK-20) going to happen on July 11, 2020. The conference will offer a unique opportunity to share the latest updates, cutting-edge technological tools, and scientific advances in CellBlockistry research.

CellBlockistry is a novel method of studying chemistry and the art of achieving quantitatively and qualitatively improved cell-blocks from different type of cytology specimens.
